

CELEBRATED MUSICIAN TO GIVE CONCERT ON SATURDAY

John Klein, RCA-Victor recording artist, who was the official carillonist for the Seattle World's Fair, will present a concert next Saturday, April 10, at the dedication of the carillon placed at the Visitor Center by the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War 1861-1865.

Dedication of the carillon, which will play soft music periodically over the central portion of the battlefield, is scheduled for 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon.

National officials of the 35,000-member organization, which has 470 "units," or local chapters, in nearly every state of the Union, are scheduled to be present. Approximately 200 members and officers of the DUV from Ohio are planning to be here. The organization began its existence on May 30, 1885, in Massillon, O., when a group of daughters of Civil War veterans, after placing flowers on the graves, decided that a permanent organization should be effected by daughters to carry on the memory of their fathers who had been with the Union armed forces during the war. The idea rapidly spread and was later endorsed by the Grand Army of the Republic—the organization of the Union veterans of the war.

NATIONAL PREXY COMING

The $3,710 cost of the carillon installation was borne by donations of 25 cents apiece by 22,840 of the members.

Mrs. Irene Lawhead, Portland, Ore., national president of the DUV, will be a speaker at the program. A pageant prepared by Mrs. Bess Kapp, Times Apartments, senior vice-president of the national group, will be presented. Other national officers of the "Daughters" include Mrs. Etta Mae Gunn, McCook, Neb., junior vice-president; Mrs. Kessie Lord, Newton, Kans., chaplain; Mrs. Gladys Davis, Springfield, Ill., treasurer; Mrs. Dorothea Meyers, Canton, O., patriotic instructor.

Klein, one of the foremost carillonists in the U. S., has made eight record albums; was the first person ever to present carillon recitals at the Salzburg Music Festival, presented recitals at the 1958 World's Fair in Brussels, Belgium, was the first person ever to combine the carillon with orchestra and chorus, was the first person to write a book on the art of playing the carillon and is author of a two-volume history of "The First Four Centuries of Music." He has composed film scores for RKO and was orchestral and choral arranger for a number of radio shows including "Your Hit Parade."

He has been carillon instructor at the Schumacher School of Campanology, Princeton, during the summer sessions from 1958 to date. He has written more than 400 published compositions, of which probably the best known is "Sound Off." Others include "The Yellowstone Suite," "Cranberry Corners, U.S.A." and "The Bells of Peace."

GUEST PREACHER

The Rev. Dr. Henry Riddle, Chambersburg, former president of the Western Theological Seminary at Pittsburgh, will conduct Communion services Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Great Conewago Presbyterian Church at Hantersdown. A class of new members will be received. Church School sessions will be held at 10 a.m.

3 Russian MIGs Jump U.S. Navy Planes Blasting Vital Bridge In N. V. Nam

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Three Communist MIG jet fighters jumped U.S. Navy aircraft today as the American planes blasted out a vital bridge link in North Viet Nam's major north-south coastal rail and road route only 65 miles south of Hanoi, the Red capital.

It marked the first time American aircraft have encountered Communist planes in the Vietnamese war.

Navy planes chased the MIGs but the Communist planes slipped away in a haze, Navy spokesmen said. George H. Whistler said he did not believe the American planes got close enough to fire during the pursuit.

Whistler did not say what model of the Soviet-built MIG was involved, or what national markings they bore. But North

ACCS BOARD MEMBERS TO MEET MONDAY

The executive board of the Adams County Council of Community Services will meet at noon Wednesday to discuss whether the council should incorporate in order to serve as a sponsoring agency for the antipoverty program.

The Adams County commissioners March 24 wrote the council outlining current studies being made concerning possible antipoverty programs in the county.

Since a sponsoring agency would be necessary in the event any such program is established, the commissioners asked the council if it would consider the possibility of serving as a sponsor. If it does, the organization will have to incorporate.

According to the commissioners the council was considered as a possible sponsoring agency because it represents practically all organizations of the county which provide community services and thus should represent a good cross section of county needs and desires should there be a decision to go ahead with antipoverty programs.

George B. Inskip, assistant council member, said.

Every one of the present high schools and all of the elementary schools now in use in the county will be continued under the plan of reorganization for Adams County Schools ordered by the state board of education.

That information is contained in official notices from the Adams County Board of School Directors to school districts throughout the county of the plans for the new school district to be put into operation July 1, 1966.

The state board's order released Conewago Twp. and McSherrystown borough to the Hanover School District under the York County plan but placed all the remainder of the county in a single school district.

BEGIN PREPARATIONS

The state board's order was handed down March 11. The county board was notified this week by the state council of basic education that the latter has approved the new county plan. The county board was directed to give official notice to the school districts of the county of the state's decision.

The Adams County school district, which is to come into being in July, 1966, currently is referred to as "Administrative Unit 63-1 of Adams County" until it is given a name by the interim operating committee early next year.

The county board already has set in motion plans for carrying out the state board's orders to the point where a director-elected operating committee of nine is chosen before next January 15 to elect a superintendent, name the district and prepare its first budget among other duties.

NO SCHOOLS CLOSING

The notice which went out today to the school districts in the county certifies there will be no secondary centers at Biglerville High School, Bermudian Springs High School, New Oxford High School, Fairfield High School, Gettysburg Junior and Senior High Schools.

The proposed elementary centers for the new district include every elementary school building now in use in the county. The present list of 14 grade schools which will continue in use after the new district comes into being includes Arendtsville, Bendersville, Biglerville, York Springs, East Berlin, New Oxford buildings on Berlin Rd. and Peters St., Littlestown buildings on Myrtle St. and Maple Ave., Fairfield, Cashtown and Eisenhower, Keefauver and Meade Schools in Gettysburg.

The new school district will be of the second class under state law and will leave more than 9,000 pupils.

ARTIFICIAL HEART KEEPS A DOG ALIVE

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Doctors at Baylor University College of Medicine are studying the body of a female dog they kept alive Friday for 3 1/2 hours with an artificial heart and then destroyed in the interest of science.

"We could keep the animal alive for quite a while," Dr. C. William Hall said shortly after the dog's heart was replaced with one made of a silicone-like material called silastic.

"But our job here is to learn everything we can about the effects of an artificial heart. We will sacrifice the animal in a few hours after we get blood samples and then we will do an autopsy to see what effect the new heart had on tissues of the body."

At 3 p.m. they turned off the air generator powering the mechanical heart. Patient 403, given no other name and of undisclosed breed, died.

The heart device was designed and built at Rice University. It weighs less than half a pound and is about 2 1/2 inches in diameter.

TO EXCHANGE COLLEGIANS

Seven Gettysburg College students and a member of the faculty left today for Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tenn., for a one-week student exchange program with the predominantly Negro college. Eight students and a staff advisor from the Knoxville school will arrive in Gettysburg Sunday afternoon and will be accommodated in dormitories on the local campus.

The program permits a person-to-person exploration of racial concern for students from both colleges and encourages an exchange of class and campus studies. The Knoxville students will choose classes at Gettysburg College which interest them and will participate in campus activities as they desire. They will be met Sunday afternoon by their roommates and the exchange committee and will attend the Chapel Choir and orchestra program. While on the local campus they will visit fraternities and sororities and will attend a student senate meeting Monday evening.

Gettysburg College students who are participating in the exchange program are Paul Clark, Robert Schmid, Ed Whetstone, Lee Clark, Bonnie Hellig, Jane Wiseman and Sheila Rettaliate. Dr. Norman Forness, faculty member, is accompanying the group. They will return to the local campus April 11.

Approximately 200 artists were entered in the competition.

Boyer is a graduate of Biglerville High School and the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia. He studied under Ernest Krape, local artist, prior to entering the academy, where he won an art fellowship to study abroad after his graduation two years ago. The letter was the latest in a series of demands for enlarging the scope of the bill to include parts of Texas, Florida, Arkansas and Tennessee.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Many of Alabama's leading businessmen and legislators believe Dr. Martin Luther King's economic boycott of this state will only hurt racial relations.

"If the boycott should be successful it can serve no other purpose than to worsen race relations in the state," said Crawford Johnson III, a soft drink executive and president of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm officials are keeping a watchful eye on drought-plagued areas of the Great Plains, fearful that the region may undergo again the disaster of the dust storms of the 1930s.

Twice as much land as a year ago has been damaged by winter whiplash up the loess, dry soil to bring heavy losses in resources and damage to adjacent lands where the soil is being held intact by crops and grasses.

BOY SCIENTIST ADDS TO SKILLS OF TELESTAR

By MARGARET SCHERF
CHICAGO (AP) — Fifteen-year-old David Belkin said he spotted some shortcomings in Telstar, so he built "Star Dust," his own communications satellite, with some extra features.

"I wanted to show how Telstar works and add a few ideas of my own," David said Thursday as he exhibited his model satellite at the Chicago Students Science Fair.

Although Telstar was "a great achievement," he said, "it had no provision for a laser communications channel."

TRANSMITS VOICES
Star Dust has such a channel, he said, enabling it to "transmit voices on a coherent beam of light."

"It would have been an added feature for Telstar," said the high school sophomore. "It has to transmit by radio and if something goes wrong, that can't be used. If it had a laser, then it would have another medium to transmit voices or data."

A laser is an electronic device producing an extremely narrow beam of light.

CARRIES WEAPONS
Star Dust has another improvement over Telstar, he said.

"I armed it with a weapons laser so if another nation sent up a satellite that threatened it, mine would knock the other one out."

A spokesman for American Telephone & Telegraph, which built Telstar, said the satellite had no laser.

"We're engaged in laser research," he said. "If the boy's got one on his satellite, he's ahead of us."

David won an award at the science fair last year with a group of machines that measured heart beat, respiration and brain waves.

WIDENING OF VOTING LAW BEING SOUGHT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressures from both friends and foes of the administration's voting bill are forcing changes designed to broaden its coverage.

Northern liberals want the bill to stamp out voter discrimination wherever it exists. Southerners, regarding its enactment as inevitable, want it to apply everywhere, not just in their area. Both have hammered at the point since hearings began March 15.

As originally sent up by President Johnson, the bill would apply to Alabama, Alaska, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, South Carolina and Virginia. It would also take in 34 counties in North Carolina and one county each in Arizona, Idaho and Maine.

LITERACY TESTS

Coverage would be determined by whether a state or any political subdivision used a literacy or similar voter-qualifying test and had less than half its voting-age population registered or voting last November.

In these areas literacy tests would be banned and federal examiners could be appointed to register voters.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach has spent days before House and Senate subcommittees defending the bill's pinpoint approach, but behind-the-scenes negotiations have gone a long way toward altering it.

JUDGE MINTON CRITICALLY ILL

NEW ALBANY, Ind. (AP) — Retired Supreme Court Justice Sherman A. Minton, 74, who participated in the historic school-desegregation decision of 1954, was listed in critical condition today after suffering intestinal bleeding.

Minton, who retired from the Supreme Court in 1956 because of failing health, was taken from his fashionable home in Silver Hills Friday to Floyd Memorial Hospital. He was placed in an intensive-care section.

Minton was gravely ill in 1959 with a blood clot near his heart and again in 1961 with a cerebral hemorrhage suffered while hospitalized with a broken ankle.

President Harry Truman named him to the Supreme Court in 1949. Minton was elected to the U.S. Senate in 1934, became Democratic majority whip the next year, but lost a re-election bid in 1940. Known as an ardent New Dealer during his Senate days, he was a leader in supporting President Franklin D. Roosevelt's unsuccessful plan to enlarge the Supreme Court.

Roosevelt named him to the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Chicago, after Minton had left the Senate.

Presents 1st Cancer Crusade Stamps

Charles W. Pentz, Gettysburg postmaster, presented a certificate bearing the first four cancelled "Crusade Against Cancer" commemorative stamps handled in the local post office, to Mrs. H. David Pitzer, crusade chairman, Friday morning in a brief ceremony in his office. The presentation was witnessed by Mrs. Earl E. Carey, cochairman for the crusade, and Mrs. Henrietta H. Blocher, the American Cancer

Society's executive director for Adams County.

Artist Steve Dohanos designed the stamp. Its central design is a stethoscope in purple against a microscope in orange. The message read "Crusade Against Cancer . . . Early Diagnosis Saves Lives."

This design is of particular interest to Adams County because a trinocular microscope was procured by the local unit for improved and added service for the cancer patient in the Warner Hospital. This was made possible by a successful crusade a year ago. The local unit hopes to secure a camera to extend the work of the trinocular microscope in the pathological study of tumors if a successful campaign is realized this month.

Stillwell was practicing a free fall jump where the opening of the parachute is delayed for a quicker descent. Hester's parachute failed to open properly during a special training jump from 1,250 feet.

Africans Leave Soviet Classes

MOSCOW (AP) — The mysterious death of a young Ghanaian two weeks ago has triggered new efforts by dissatisfied African students to leave the Soviet Union, informed sources said today.

The students have been protesting in various ways. Some have boycotted classes. A few have found the money to leave the country.

A group of Kenyan students staged a sit-in demonstration last week at a railroad station in Baku, the Soviet oil city on the Caspian Sea.

Diplomatic sources said student complaints covered racial, financial and educational issues.

They said the death of Ghanaian student George Daku in Baku two weeks ago was the latest incident in a series of grievances.

CANCER TRIAL BEGINS MONDAY

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal judge ruled Friday that Dr. Andrew C. Ivy must go on trial with three co-defendants Monday on fraud and conspiracy charges in connection with distribution of the drug krebiozen.

Judge Julius Hoffman denied a separate trial for Ivy in U.S. District Court. The motion contended that evidence against some of the defendants would not be admissible against Ivy and a jury would be confused by a joint trial.

The other defendants are Dr. Stevan Durovic, discoverer of the drug which is used by some cancer sufferers; his brother, Marko, a lawyer, and Dr. William F. Phillips.

The 49-count indictment returned Nov. 16 includes charges of mail fraud, mislabeling a drug, making false statements to the government and conspiracy.

LBJ, PEARSON TALK AIR RAIDS AT CAMP DAVID

By FRANK CORMIER
THURMONT, Md. (AP) — President Johnson discusses with Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson today the Canadian's call for a respite in air strikes against North Viet Nam as a possible first step toward peace.

Johnson, who flew by helicopter Friday night to Camp David, a presidential retreat in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains, arranged an informal afternoon conference with Pearson.

No agenda was announced, but Pearson's suggestion for a moratorium on U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam was certain to figure prominently in the talks.

SECOND TALK

Plans for the second Johnson-Pearson meeting in less than three months were announced by the White House shortly before Pearson said Friday night in Philadelphia that a pause in air strikes might prompt the Communist regime in Hanoi to adopt more flexible policies.

There was no immediate White House reaction to the suggestion.

However, Johnson told a news conference Thursday the United States will continue to take measures he described as "appropriate and fitting and measured"—words he has used repeatedly in talking about bombing missions north of Viet Nam's 17th parallel.

Pearson, a veteran diplomat, made his suggestion in accepting the second annual Peace Award at Temple University. He said that unless steps are taken soon to reach a peaceful settlement, "the war in Viet Nam might well become a far wider and more terrible conflict."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO
Dr. Walter C. Langsam this morning resigned as president of Gettysburg College, to accept the presidency of the University of Cincinnati. He will assume his new duties September 1.

Mrs. Richard Phil, R. 4, mother of a five-and-a-half-year-old daughter, Sharon, and who "does her own housework," was chosen "Mrs. America" Friday evening in competition with 20 other entries in the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company's contest conducted in this area.

Here and There: A few days ago President Eisenhower spent his first night in his Gettysburg farmhouse in complete privacy. Thursday evening Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. Doud, spent their first night at the farm... also in complete privacy. Today the President joined his "First Lady" and until sometime Saturday they will enjoy their first "owned" home in the seclusion they desire.

The White House announcement several weeks ago that once the Eisenhowers move into their farmhouse it will be their "private home" and will, so to speak, be "out-of-bounds" to reporters and photographers.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wagner, R. 3, announce the engagement of their daughter, Rose Marie, to E. Dewey Collins Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Dewey Collins, Baltimore St.

Miss Wagner, who was graduated from the Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, in June, is employed by the G. C. Murphy Company, Gettysburg. Her fiancé, who was graduated from the Gettysburg High School in 1953, is employed by Rea and Derick, Gettysburg. No date has been set for the wedding.

The following officers were elected by the Stone Jug 4-H Club at a meeting Friday night at the home of Roy Weaver, Gettysburg R.D.: Fred Grace, president; David Sibert, vice-president; William Cleveland, Lowe, news reporter; Glenn Zepp, game leader, and Allen Withrow, song leader.

Activities for the year were discussed and project books distributed. The club will meet the first Monday of each month.

Miss Dolores Yvonne Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hart, Aspers, recently received her cap from the Harrisburg Hospital School of Nursing. "Miss Hart is a graduate of the Biglerville High School, Class of 1954.

Miss Jane Reuning, a Junior at Gettysburg High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Reuning, W. High St., is the editor of the new staff that produced its first edition of the Maroon and White, Gettysburg High School newspaper on Wednesday. The staff of underclassmen has taken over the paper management from senior members.

Today's Talk

UNTHINK IT!
Neglect things and interest in them dies. Even love dies from neglect. There are times, however, when neglect does a good service, as when a bad habit is neglected, thereby getting its death warrant.

People so often complain, saying that they cannot break a habit. The most practical and sure way to break a habit is to unthink it! To neglect it by putting something else that is wholesome in its place that the habit is automatically conquered. Said Shakespeare: "There is nothing either good or bad but thinking makes it so." Master your thinking and you master your habit.

Said Emmet Fox: "The mere rehearsing in thought of any difficulty endows it with new life." The moment you tell yourself that you can't do a thing, that moment you feed failure. It is essential to think positively and constructively if you would conquer. This is the first step to take in the killing of a destructive habit!

Take the commonest of all habits, that of worrying, or that one of fear. Allowing them in your thought keeps them alive, and so their destructive work keeps accumulating, lowering your capacity for constructive thinking, and chilling your opportunity for happiness that should be yours in full measure.

What an experience it would be could we but die daily and be reborn with the rising of the morning sun! And this is not impossible if we unthink our past failures, regrets, or blunders. Unthink your worries and your fears and you will find yourself in a new atmosphere—a new human being in a new world.

Held to a grudge, and it keeps getting bigger and bigger the more you think of it. How familiar is that phrase "the more I think of it, the madder I get." Unthink all unkindly, or bitter thoughts, all unhappy remembrances, and you will begin to mount the happy hills! It isn't always easy, but it is always and always profitable, and God is always handy to give you a lift!

HOME FOR CHILDHOOD
How make the home a happy spot?

I'd venture to say that
"It's not from things delight is got,
But from the human heart.
If children are not loved at home,
But often frowned away,
It won't be long before they roam
Afar their games to play."

Who lacks the heart for childhood's noise,
And orders it to cease,
The children's love of home
Destroys

For temporary peace,
Who will not let them tramp the grass,
And use for their play,
Leaves more a lawn than a boy or lass—
A fearful thing to say!

Who gives to carpets greater care
Than childhood's every need
May drive the youngsters off to where
From scolding they are freed.
The happy home where laughter rings
From roof to cellar floor
Comes not from cherishing its things,
But loving children more.

SWIM STAR IS NOT SATISFIED WITH NEW YORK

By LOU BLACK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Even though Don Schollander wrecked his American record in the 200-yard freestyle swim, he still feels he isn't in the best condition.

"Naturally, I'm very happy with the race," said Schollander, the world's top male athlete last year, "but I've been working out only since last February and just feel I'm not at my best."

All the 18-year-old Yale freshman did Friday night in his first championship meet since winning four gold medals in the Tokyo Olympics was to defend his 200-yard sprint title with a spectacular 1:41.7.

It knocked out his National AAU indoor mark for the distance by nine-tenths of a second, and that awesome performance brought a capacity crowd of 2,300 to its feet cheering wildly for about the same time it took Schollander to race it.

Two other American standards were lowered Friday, but in both cases there are better pending marks. Carl Robie won the 200-yard butterfly in 1:52.7, improving on Fred Schmidt's 1:53.5, but Schmidt won the NCAA fly last week in 1:51.4.

The Trojans were timed in 3:07.4 lowering Yale's national mark of 3:08.1. But Yale has a pending clocking of 3:07.2, registered last week in winning the NCAA.

TRACK CLASH IS POSTPONED

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The clash between two flashy sons of Bold Ruler — Bold Lad and Jacinto — will have to wait at least another two weeks until the renewal of the $75,000-added Wood Memorial at Aqueduct. And it well may not come until the pair square off May 1 at Churchill Downs in America's most colorful horse race — the Kentucky Derby.

The meeting was scheduled for today in the one mile of the $50,000-added Gotham at Aqueduct with Bold Lad, the 1964 2-year-old champion making his 3-year-old debut after having his training interrupted by two popped splints.

But trainer Bill Winfrey decided at the last minute Friday to enter Bold Lad in a six-furlong race against four older horses where he'll carry only 114 pounds compared to the 126 he would have packed against rivals of his own age in the Gotham.

That left Jacinto, winner of five straight races including his 1964 finale before bowing to Lucky Debonair in the Santa Anita Derby, to take on eight other equine sophomores in the Gotham as the even money choice.

State Evicts Honest Artist For Refusal To Wear Costume

COLUMBIA, Calif. (AP) — Charles Surendorf, a 56-year-old old artist who wouldn't trade his conservative brown tweed suit for a 49ers' costume, is packing up his canvases and closing his gallery after 18 years in this restored gold rush town.

Surendorf said Friday he will not contest the state's legal action to evict him.

"It would cost me too much," he said. "They have all the taxpayers' money behind them."

Surendorf has been running a one-man show at his gallery since 1947. When the state took over the town and restored its buildings as a monument to the gold rush era, others signed concession contracts agreeing to wear clothing of the miners of that day.

Not Surendorf. "Why should I wear a costume?" he asked. "The state is making the place a carnival. I'm not going to be party to a fraud."

How did the costume idea get started?

"Two old ladies who have very ugly legs thought this up," he said. "They wanted to cover them up with those long skirts, and the State Park Commission went along."

LEAFS SNARE EDGE IN ICE SERIES 1 TO 0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nothing — short of a comeback by Maurice (Rocket) Richard — should surprise hockey fans at the Montreal Forum tonight when the Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs resume their National Hockey League vendetta in the second game of their Stanley Cup semifinal playoff series.

Montreal leads the best-of-7 games set 1-0, having edged the Leafs 3-2 Thursday night in a stormy opener marked by 26 penalties, a stick-swinging incident and a one-punch return by ex-Canadian Richard, the all-time NHL great who retired five years ago.

OTHER GAMES

In the other semifinal series, the Detroit Red Wings entertain Chicago Sunday night, holding a one-game edge with their 4-3 decision over the Black Hawks Thursday night.

Richard, now a Canadiens' official, admitted Friday he had thrown a punch at Toronto defenseman Kent Douglas — and missed — from his seat behind the Leafs bench after a first-period brawl between Douglas and Montreal's Dave Balon.

Douglas had been banished from the game for belting Balon with his stick. He was headed for the dressing room when Richard acted. "I tried to take a swing at him and missed," said the Rocket. "Then he swung his stick at me and missed too."

"It's all over now — at least I hope it is," said Richard, who added that he would find a seat in "a less troublesome place" for tonight's return.

The surprising Baltimore Bullets take on the Los Angeles Lakers tonight in a continuation of their drive for the championship of the National Basketball Association.

The game at Los Angeles is the first in a best-of-seven series for the Western Division playoff crown in the NBA.

On Sunday afternoon the Boston Celtics start their campaign for an unprecedented seventh straight NBA crown by entertaining the Philadelphia 76ers in the opener of the best-of-seven Eastern Division playoff final.

Baltimore, upset winner over the St. Louis Hawks in the Western Division semifinal playoffs, again are cast in the role of underdog to the Lakers and their one-two threats, Jerry West and Elgin Baylor.

TRIBE IS MOST IMPROVED NINE SAYS CRONIN

BOSTON (AP) — Cleveland is baseball's most improved team, Indian third baseman Max Alvis is the best player and Cincinnati is the sharpest hitting club.

These are the spring training observations of American League President Joe Cronin, just back from a swing through the camps.

As for his league's perennial powerhouse, the New York Yankees, Cronin said Friday pitching will tell whether they can attain a record sixth straight pennant.

Cronin called Cleveland "the most improved club I've seen."

BATTING PROWESS

"Alvis was the best player I observed, either league, any position," he said about the athlete who bounced back from a bout with meningitis last summer.

Cronin singled out the Reds for their batting prowess. "Of all the hitting teams I saw," said Cronin, "the best right now is

State Legislature Drags; Current Session May Extend Through Christmas Holiday

By JACK LYNCH
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG (AP) — There was a time not so long ago that the general assembly regularly finished its work by Memorial Day with a rare session running as late as the Fourth of July.

Apparently those days are gone forever, a victim of the 17-month marathon session in 1953 and 1954.

EXPECTS LATE YEAR

Since then sessions rarely have ended before Labor Day and one bumped into the following New Year's day. Some lawmakers fully expect to be singing Christmas carols in Harrisburg this year.

"Let's not do today what we can put off until next week," has become sort of a theme in the legislative halls. But it is not really clear whether the attitude is a result of, or the cause of the extended sessions of the past decade.

The current session, despite the cries of legislative gold-bricking, is no better and not much worse than any other of recent years.

MEETS TWICE WEEKLY

The Senate has met on 23 days and the House on 20 days since the session opened Jan. 5, averaging two meetings weekly. Some of the meetings lasted as long as four hours and as brief as 15 minutes. Several years ago, one Senate session lasted exactly 47 seconds.

The record shows that the number of meetings days prior to April 1 is just about average. The only difference is that the Senate has met more often than the House. The reverse is usually the rule.

But in this year of a political divided legislature the Republican-controlled Senate is running ahead of its traditional pace to carry the load of the Republican-Scranton administration's program.

500 BILLS INTRODUCED

A total of 500 bills have been introduced so far in the Senate, compared with only 355 at the same stage in 1955, 494 in 1961 and 561 in 1959.

The Democratic-controlled House is somewhat under its norm for bill introductions, receiving only 443 so far, compared with 721 in 1963, 1,105 in 1961 and 984 in 1959.

The House has passed 124 bills thus far and the Senate 74, but comparisons with previous years are not available.

ONLY SEVEN SIGNED

There is one indicator of progress, however, and it doesn't speak too well for the current session. Only seven bills have been signed into law by Gov. Scranton with another awaiting disposition. By this time in 1963, 10 bills had become law. In 1961 there were 30 and in 1959 there were 18.

The House has passed 11 Senate bills, the same as the number of House bills which have received Senate approval.

Still bogged in House committees are Senate-approved administration bills on the Appalachia and antipoverty programs, manpower retraining and a salary increase for the superintendent of public instruction.

The Senate on the other hand has long delayed action on the administration's own school bus bill, going through lengthy public hearings.

Nothing at all has been done about the governor's proposed $5 weekly increase in unemployment compensation benefits, which was the second bill introduced in the Senate this year.

Jack Kaiser is in his 10th season as St. John's (Long Island) baseball coach. His teams began the current season with 230 victories against 57 defeats.

Protestants Split On Death Penalty

NEW YORK (AP) — A nationwide poll of Protestants showed today that 64 percent of those surveyed consider the death penalty morally justifiable, and 61 percent regard it as a deterrent to crime.

Replies in the survey, taken by Christian Herald magazine, came from more than 13,500 persons in a cross section of Protestant denominations.

Seventy-one percent of the women under 30, however, said capital punishment was never justifiable.

Sixty-four percent said they did not think it deterred crime.

Slash Millions But Add Others

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee cut $13 million from the military hardware and research authorization bill Wednesday but included unasked millions for an advanced bomber and two additional nuclear submarines.

The authorization measure — totaling $15,284,000,000 — was approved unanimously by the committee.

The bill includes $82 million extra to hasten "development of an advanced manned bomber" and $136.6 million for two more nuclear submarines than had been requested by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Model Secretary Admits Thievery

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Leonardine Finneran, named Houston's "secretary of the year" three years ago, admitted Thursday she stole almost $20,000 from a former employer.

Miss Finneran, 42, wore no makeup as she appeared before Dist. Judge Miron Love Thursday.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The majority of the members of Gov. Scranton's Milk Control Inquiry Committee Thursday called for rigid state price controls on milk.

The recommendation, issued by six of the 10 members of the committee, was in sharp contrast to a minority report submitted last month.

The minority opinion, offered by Dr. Herbert A. Simon, committee chairman, and two other public members of the inquiry group, urged the elimination of price controls in Western Pennsylvania.

LONDON (AP) — The British government called Friday for the views of 11 governments on ways of ending the war in Viet Nam.

The Foreign Office announced that Britain, as co-chairman of the 1954 Indochinese peace conference, had addressed messages to all countries involved in the future of Viet Nam.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy patrol planes are keeping tabs on Soviet ships and vessels of other nations heading through the Gulf of Tonkin toward Communist North Viet Nam, sources said Friday.

They said these patrol aircraft sometimes fly as low as a few hundred feet to get clear identification of such ships, to photograph them, and to check on whether they are carrying deck cargo such as airplane fuselages, missile bodies, or tanks.

Douglas Dillon Leaves Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry H. Fowler stepped in and Douglas Dillon stepped out Thursday as secretary of the Treasury in a ceremony in which their wives received special attention.

After Fowler had been sworn in, President Johnson said: "This is an occasion of mixed emotions for all of us.

"We are very sorry to see our beloved Phyllis Dillon leave. But we are all quite happy to welcome Trudy Fowler to our official family again. Doug and Joe are quite incidental." Joe is Fowler's nickname.

Johnson noted that their selection of wives commended the judgment of both Fowler and Dillon.

Locate Missing Gold Bars On Ship

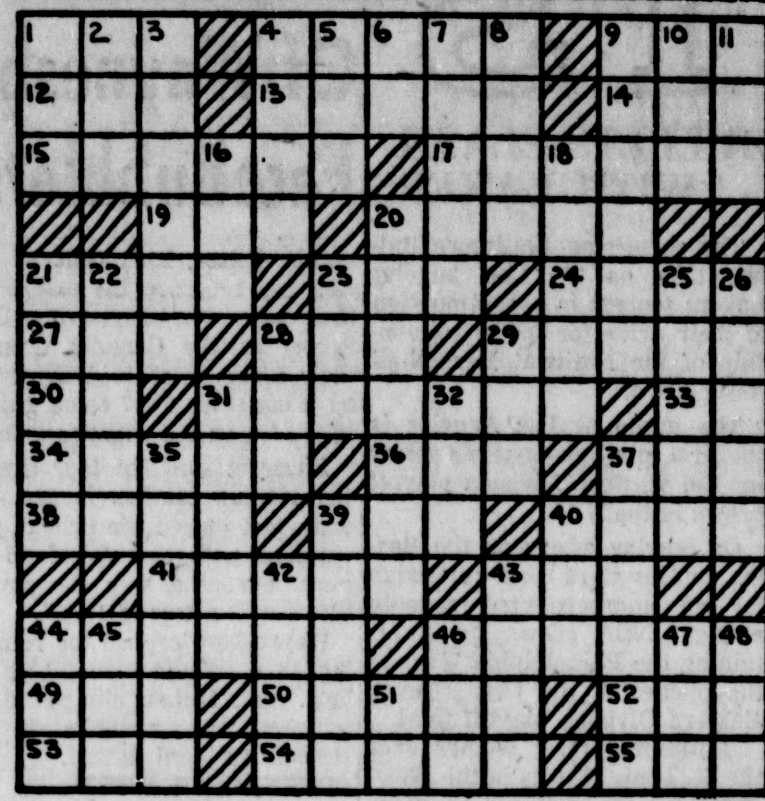

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — A consignment of 20 gold bars worth $284,200 arrived Friday from South Africa aboard the liner Capetown Castle — eight weeks late.

The gold vanished from a strongroom aboard the liner in February. A search of the vessel in Southampton was fruitless, and the ship sailed back to South Africa. There a second search turned up the bars, hidden on the ship.

Two of the ship's crew were arrested.

Scranton Wants Mine Reclamation

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton says he will recommend 23 mine reclamation projects, costing $21 million, for the federal Appalachia program.

The projects, outlined by Scranton Thursday now must be approved by the Appalachia Regional Commission and the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

If all are approved, Pennsylvania would contribute $6 million and the federal government $15 million to finance the reclamation, Scranton said.

He estimated the cost of controlling mine fires at $11.1 million, the filling of 10 abandoned mines at $9.2 million and restoration of abandoned strip mines at $564,000.

Changes In Eminent Domain Laws Affect Landowners

By THOMAS E. PIPER
Adams County Farm Agent

Several recent changes in the Pennsylvania eminent domain law affect all property owners and those who use public facilities such as highways, public parks and airports. A significant new feature is the requirement that 100 percent of "just compensation" must be paid to the property owners at the time possession is taken of his property. In the past, payment has sometimes been delayed months or even years until a final award was made.

Just compensation shall consist of the difference between the fair market value of the condemnor's entire property interest immediately before the condemnation and as unaffected thereby, and the fair market value of his property interest remaining immediately after such condemnation and affected thereby. For example, if a farmer owns a 100-acre farm, and the Highway Department condemns a 20-acre strip through the middle of it, then the owner of the farm must be paid the difference between what the farm was worth before his 20-acre strip was taken and what it was worth afterwards.

Condemnors, including the Commonwealth now must pay for consequential damages, for business dislocation resulting in the loss of good will, for moving expenses, for property whose value has been diminished by mining operations beneath it (in certain areas), and for property whose value has been reduced by the closing of roads.

Last season's dry weather reduced the vegetation of desirable plants in pastures. Wild garlic is going to be problem in permanent pastures and off-flavor milk can be expected from its lush growth. Wild garlic is controlled with 2, 4-D ester at the rate of one pound per acre in five to 15 gallons of water.

The spraying should be done during the arly part of April when the plants are growing rapidly. Wild garlic bulbs do not all start to grow in one season and it may require more than spraying to obtain complete control.

Move dairy cows from pastures where wild garlic has not been controlled at least four hours before milking time. This will help to reduce the off-flavor and odors in milk. Young livestock grazing these pastures helps reduce wild garlic growth.

NEED SANITATION

Drugs can't take the place of good sanitation in controlling livestock parasites. Drugs can't correct damage already done by worms. The only way to prevent damage is to keep animals from harboring parasites in the first place. This can only be accomplished by proper sanitation and good management.

These general rules will help to prevent parasite infestation in livestock:

Feed and water livestock so that there is no manure contamination. Plans for sanitary feed bunks and hay racks are available in the extension office.

Avoid crowding. Because of greater concentration of parasites and other infections, crowding promotes contamination and easier spread of infection.

Pasture young animals away from mature stock on clean pastures. Clean pasture is newly planted grass, hayfields or any land that has not been heavily

DR. BRYAN WILL GIVE PSU TALK

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — Pennsylvania school officials will meet here Wednesday to discuss problems that have emerged from the school district reorganization act of 1963.

The meeting is the 12th annual School Board Institute, sponsored by the School Study Council with the cooperation of the College of Education at the Pennsylvania State University, the Pennsylvania State University School Directors Association and the Centre County School Directors Association.

Under the legislation, explains Dr. Walter J. Delacy, professor of education at Penn State and executive secretary of the Pennsylvania School Study Council, more than 2,100 districts will merge into less than 500. Many districts have already gone through advanced establishment and unanticipated problems have appeared.

Speakers on hand to discuss these problems will be key personnel from the state government, including Dr. Harold O. Speidel, deputy secretary for school administration; John P. McCord, deputy attorney general; Dr. Herbert E. Bryan, director of the Bureau of School District Reorganization and Severino Stefanon, secretary to the state board of education.

Their subjects range from assets and liabilities to issues of internal structure under the reorganization plans.

The program will close with the annual School Board-Study Council banquet where presentations will be made of the A. Brace Dennison Memorial Administrator of the Year award.

130,000 On List Of Threat To LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Secret Service has a list of 130,000 persons or groups who it says may be a danger to a president.

The list was disclosed in closed-session testimony made public Thursday by a House Appropriations subcommittee considering Secret Service requests for additional money to expand protection of a president and vice-president.

grazed at least six months.

Provide clean, disinfected quarters or clean pasture for the birth of young animals and separate them from adults as soon as possible.

Animals, well fed on a balanced ration, resist parasite infection. Parasites become a problem only where sound sanitation and feeding are lacking.

FARM CALENDAR

Pasture Cows Slowly — Don't move your cows out on lush pastures too soon is the advice of Joe Taylor, extension dairy specialist at the Pennsylvania State University. He warns that a sudden change from winter feeding to pasture feeding can cause mastitis and suggests feeding some hay and grain before dairy cows go out to pasture each day early in the season.

Repair Damaged Trees — Strong winds with heavy ice on tree branches sometimes causes breaks and splitting. Trees having soft, brittle wood, such as soft maples, willows and poplars may be damaged. Craig S. Oliver, extension horticulturist at the Pennsylvania State University, suggests that broken branches be cut off and damaged areas be treated. Wounds and cuts should be covered with "wound paint" to reduce decay. For more detailed information, see your county agent.

Prepare Sprayers — A rainy spring day is a good time to prepare your sprayers for use, remind extension agricultural engineers at the Pennsylvania State University. Replace worn nozzles, broken or damaged hoses and make other needed repairs. Calibrate your sprayer for accuracy on a warm day.

Negro Widow Is Mother Of Year

RED BANK, N.J. (AP) — Mabel Jackson Robinson, a Negro real estate agency owner from Madison, is New Jersey's "Mother of the Year."

Mrs. Robinson, mother of four, was honored for her religious and civic activities, "traits highly regarded in mothers," and for the achievements of her children.

She is the second Negro chosen by the New Jersey State Committee of the National American Mothers Committee Inc. for the title. The late Helen Lee Johnson of Atlantic City was selected in 1964.

Mrs. Robinson, a widow, will compete for the national title in New York next month.

HIDDEN POCKETS

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Shirts worn by prisoners at the Shelby County penal farm are made by women prisoners who seemingly are inexperienced, disinterested or disgruntled.

Male prisoners printed this plea in the prison newspaper: "Please, ladies, could you relocate the pockets so we could find them without taking off our pants?"

Specials Get A Nod, Series A Nix From Jill

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

A wary, puzzled look flickered over the lovely young face of red-haired Jill St. John.

If this interview was for the newspaper's television section, why then so many questions about her hobby, English antiques? Once assured that we weren't pulling a fast one, that there was space enough to mention both, the interview got back on cheerful footing.

"A MOVIE STAR"

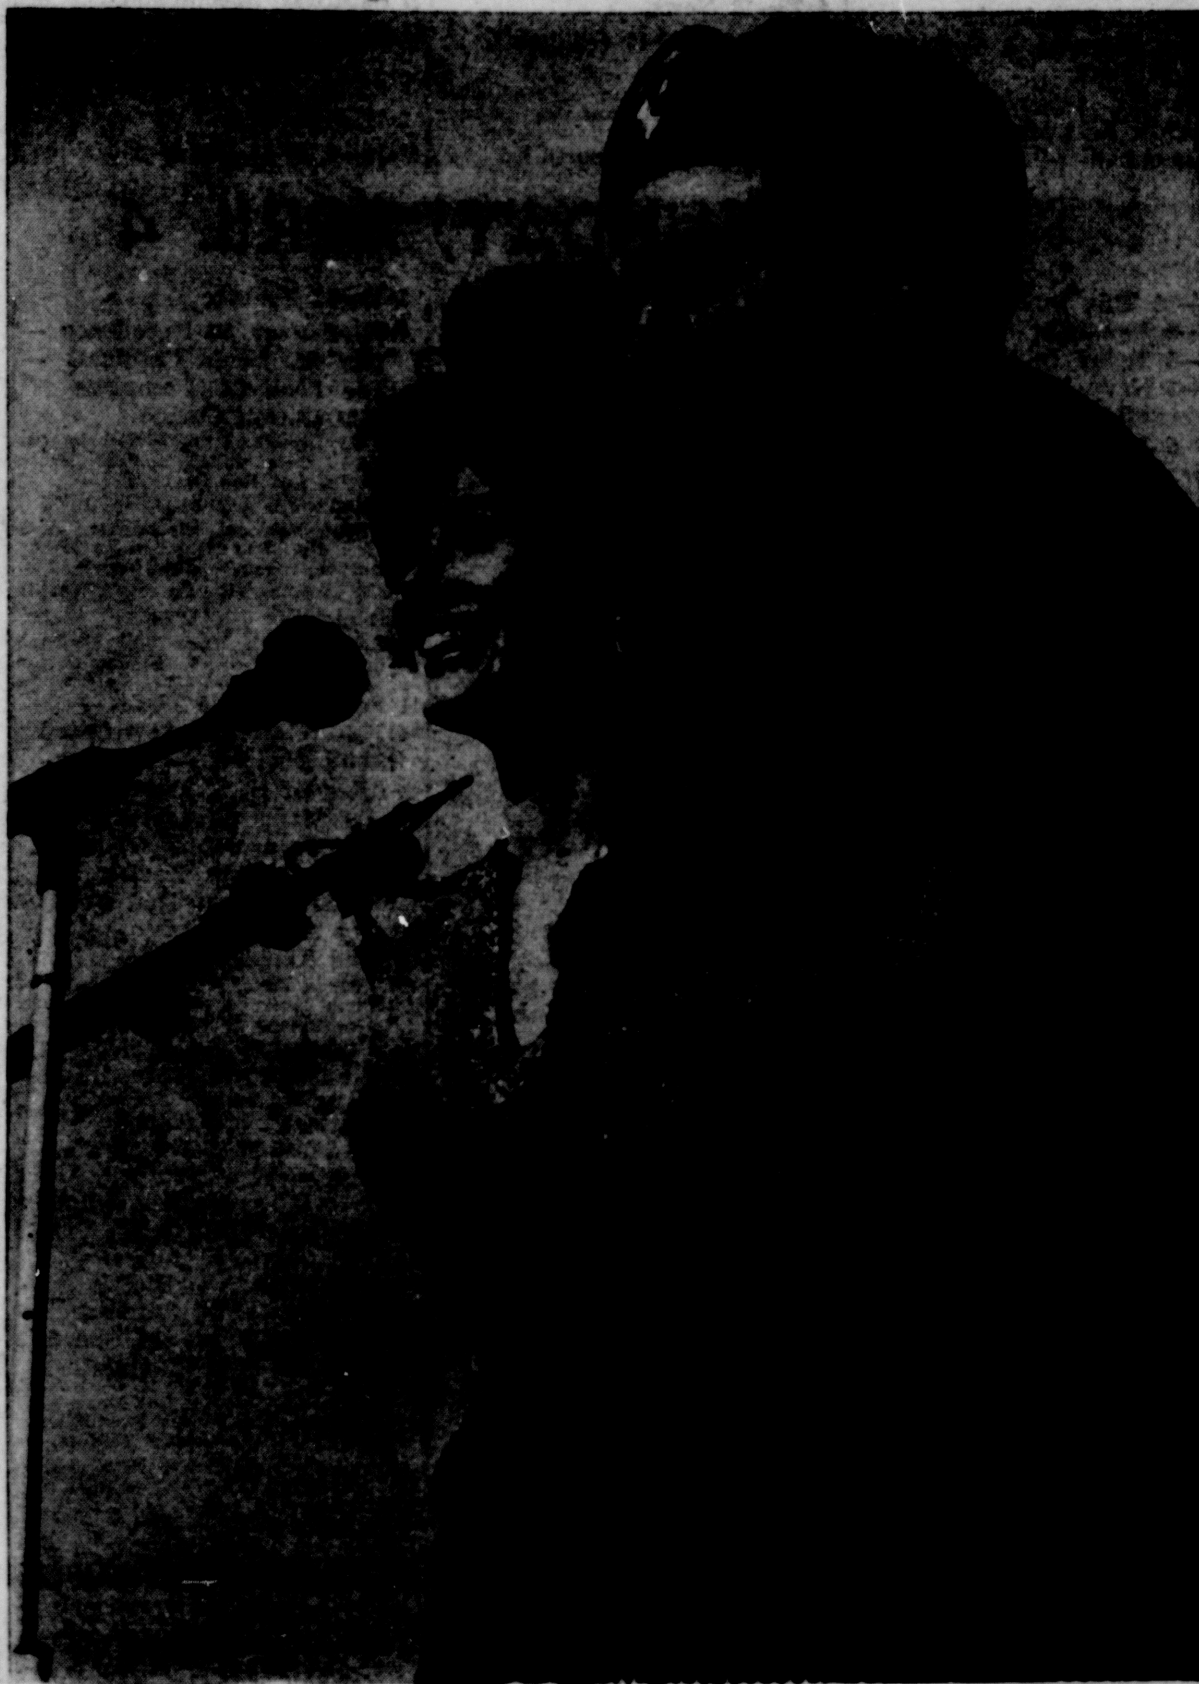

One could deduce what might have turned her into the proverbial "once-burned, twice-shy child." A lot of us fell for a blithe widely-quoted item awhile back that this ex-daughter-in-law of Barbara Hutton didn't care a hoot about "becoming a real actress, all she wanted to be was a movie star."

Oh yes? Well one look at her list of credits tells a pretty different story. She's not one of those merely pretty girls hired first and taught to act later. Though she's from a non-theatrical family she's "always wanted to act" and she's been doing just that since she was six years old. She's had years of radio, did something like over a thousand episodes on "One Man's Family." By getting in, still as a child actress, in 1948 she can even claim being a pioneer in television's "Golden Age."

ATTENDING CLASSES

She further explains she can't explain the quote: "Because I take acting classes several times a week regularly. In a way I have to. In television as well as the movies I've become known for comedy. And I like comedy. But I have to keep growing. In class I can do roles nobody would hire me for. Heavy drama, variety. Why I can be an old woman one day and a witch the next. You just have to keep in practice."

"That's one reason why the time is not right for me to do a series. I haven't found the right series. Money doesn't matter that much to me that I'd tie myself right now to a limited series character where I'd have no chance to do different things. That's why heaviest emphasis on films is better for my career right now."

Beautiful red-haired Jill St. John is delighted that Bob Hope wants her to guest on his television theater series next season. She's shown here with the famous comic on his Christmas junket to entertain the troops in Viet Nam.

SPECIALS APPEARANCES

Television specials? Ah That's another and yippier story. "That I love because it gives me variety. And it's definite that this year and next I'll be doing at least four specials on NBC. I'm so glad Bob Hope wants me back!"

In addition to guest starring in a teleplay on Hope's television show, Jill was one of the headliners on his two-plane Christmas junket to entertain the front-line troops in Viet Nam.

Jill sat down at the pink damask-civered breakfast table the waiter had just brought into the flower-filled room of her Hotel Pierre suite. She signed the check, offered tea, poured some for herself, then launched into a paean of praise for Bob Hope.

CHECKED TENSIONS

"Traveling is supposed to be some kind of test for finding out the worst about a person. But it was Bob himself who set the tone for our trip. His attitude kept everybody else's tensions in check. I sat beside him the whole way over . . . and even I caught the habit of writing home. He'd scribble off notes for hours. 'Let's send Hedda a funny card,' he'd say. Finally, he handed me a supply of my own and I got busy."

"Yes, it was quite a trip. I was so glad NBC wanted to do another special of the footage they'd cut out of the first show. There was ever so much good material. Even at that, it doesn't begin to cover the actual performances. We'd go out and back from Saigon sometimes a couple of times a day. For places where we couldn't land, we'd radio a show too bases right from the plane. Often we were being fired on by the enemy from the ground."

PRAISES BOYER

Jill has warm praise, too, for another of the entertainment field's giants, Charles Boyer. "What a wonderful man." Seems right after she was signed to portray a potentially murderous ex-friend of Marcel St. Clair's in "The Rogues" Jill's temperature rocketed. Not excitement. Pneumonia. "They could have replaced me," she says, "but they were lovely, they stalled. Now it's not that I believe the show must go on no matter what. At least it shouldn't if you're in a play and cheating an understudy out of her big chance. But this was different, this was a one-time thing. Finally the doctor hopped me up with antibiotics and let me stay up just long enough to do my scenes. Charles Boyer was so solicitous. Kept trying to send me home even earlier."

They found, too, that they're fellow insomniacs. "I think, though, he's got the system. I'm adapting it. He says relaxing is more important than actual sleep, so why worry, why think."

"I try my own version of the story of the man who had to spend every last cent of a million dollars or lose an inheritance. What have I bought mentally? Oh Queen Elizabeth's collection, lots of paintings you couldn't buy. Then I bought all of Gucci's things like that! Then I fall asleep."

SENSE OF VALUE

In her wide-awake hours though she's credited with a good sense of value. More than one dealer will attest to her knowledge of antiques. And though she's beautifully dressed she says she watches for price-reduction time on Galanos clothes.

Suddenly you realize she's wearing a handsome turtle-neck heavy wool dress, and absolutely no jewels. "Yes, I have some nice ones but I just don't feel like wearing them any more. Though I've never been robbed I'd have to pay those unfairly high celebrity rates. So the jewels are in the bank. Maybe some day I'll turn them into more English furniture." But whether she uses the jewels (or more likely the nice take from her next movie) she's at least in line for some on-the-spot furniture browsing.

For her next movie means even more than a juicy part. It's being shot in London and what could be a happier hunting ground for her furniture hobby?

So series or no series, between movies and the TV specials she loves, us home folks can get plenty of look-sees at this glamorous young comedy star who's deadly serious about her career. Serious enough to work awfully hard.

ROME (AP) — American director Stanley Kubrick won Italy's 1965 Silver Ribbon award as director of the best non-Italian film for "Dr. Strangelove." The award was made on the basis of a nationwide vote of Italian movie journalists.

MONICA KEEPS
COMEDY IMAGE
IN "TONIGHT"By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Three or four years ago, I would have paid the producers for a chance to work in 'The Joey Bishop Show,'" said Corbett Monica. "Now, everything is different. I must make very careful decisions about the next things I do."

The tall, slender New Yorker was doing all right as a nightclub comedian — so well, in fact, he was booked for a "Tonight Show" session which happened to fall on an evening when Bishop was acting as substitute host. He impressed Bishop so strongly that he was written into the CBS series in the course of its frequent changes of format.

TRIPLED SALARY

"In the first place, the series tripled my price for nightclub work and brought me lots of bookings I would never have received," Monica said. "Perhaps just as important, the show brought me to the attention of movie people — they never think of a nightclub comic as an actor."

"The Joey Bishop Show," will succumb at the end of this season. And Monica is trying to parlay his success as a comedy actor into even better things. Looming large on his next season's calendar is a comedy series of his own. "TONIGHT" FILL-IN He is pleased with an upcoming engagement at Las Vegas, where the money is both green but he is even more excited at the prospect of keeping his TV image alive by filling in for Johnny Carson as host of the "Tonight" show this month and next. Recommended weekend viewing: Tonight — "Secret Agent," CBS, 9-10 (Eastern Standard Time), summer replacement consisting of action-adventure series starring Patrick McGeehan. Sunday — "The American Sportsman," ABC, 4-5 p.m. — special on hunting and fishing; "Twentieth Century," CBS, 6-6:30, profile of violinist Isaac Stern; "The General," ABC, 7:30-8:30, documentary on Douglas MacArthur, the man and the legend.

Kansas Has Five Drivers Over 100 TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — A survey presented to the Roads and Highways Committee of the Kansas House Thursday showed five Kansans over 100 — three men and two women — hold drivers' licenses. The state has 1,301,279 licensed drivers. They include 512 over 90 and nearly 15,000 over 80. The committee is considering a bill to strengthen the licensing law.

Spike Bus Fuel
With Fragrance

HALEDON, N.J. (AP) — Their buses may not smell like roses, but officials of the Associated Bus Co. say there is no question they give off a floral fragrance. Last week the company began spiking its fuel with a chemical additive to kill the smell of exhaust fumes which filled the firm's garage. Now the place smells like a flower shop, according to the company president, Anthony Sebastian.

Sebastian says the big advantage will be in the hot weather when the fragrant exhaust fumes hit the people in the street.

Seeks Funds For 1966 Exposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson plans to ask Congress for $2.5 million to stage a two-week international aerospace exposition in the summer of 1966 to sell American aviation and space products to government and commercial buyers from around the world.

Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby reported after conferring with Johnson Wednesday that such a show would enable the United States to go into competition with the Soviet Union, Britain and France in the aerospace product field.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The secretary-treasurer of the Philadelphia AFL-CIO Council, Joseph P. Kelley, says he has reconsidered his intention to resign, but he will continue to refuse to cosign the council's checks. Kelley claims that council president Edward F. Toohey was elected through improper action of FL leaders on the council's executive board. He said Thursday that to cosign the checks would have the effect of validating Toohey's election.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dr. G. Taylor Whittier, superintendent of schools, says the city plans to bus some 7,000 pupils to 50 schools outside their home neighborhoods this fall. Whittier, who announced the plans Thursday, said Negroes would be bused to 21 predominantly white schools for the first time. The pupils will be transferred to promote racial integration in the classroom and to reduce overcrowding in some schools.

Gettysburg—a small Pennsylvania town that became the center of the great struggle between North and South in the Civil War. And on that battlefield, cannon and monuments stand in silent tribute to the courage of American men.

On July 1st, 1863, the first night of the battle, the opposing cavalry units met and skirmished. In the gathering dusk of the second day two Confederate brigades, Louisiana and North Carolina troops of General Hays and Hoke, stormed the heights of Cemetery Hill and drove back the Union forces. For a brief moment, the Confederates had broken through the Union line.

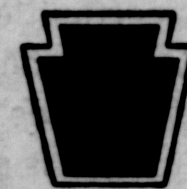

But, through the night, Northern reinforcements crept into the small, sleepy village that now serves the nation as an historic shrine. And the Union, under the determined General Meade, was ready for the attack, celebrated in the annals of warfare as 'Pickett's Charge.' When the smoke of battle cleared, Robert E. Lee's Army of Northern Virginia had suffered a bitter defeat, and retreated to the South.

Brother fought brother in Gettysburg, but a nation was saved.

And on the battlefield, four months after the struggle, Lincoln, in 269 words, summed up the meaning of the war in a message that has more impact that the volumes written about it.

Gettysburg is living history; millions of Americans have made the pilgrimage to this town, and wandered silently over the green fields, now dotted with dramatic markers, that witnessed the birthplace of an enduring United States.
